After Phone Lines Successful Concert

A movement is on foot for the establishment of rural telephone lines east and west of Bowden last week. Dr A E Shore and Mr R Mc Cue made a canvas of the distance as far as Red Lodge and although a number of parties were unavoidably missed in this canvas.

A sufficient number of names were served to encourage the promoters. If possible the line will be extended to Mountain House.

All those living in this district who have not been sublisted and who would like to have a phone service are requested to leave their names with Dr Shore.

East of Bowden it is proposed to run a line out to the Betchten District and although no canvas of this territory has as yet been made it is assured that little difficulty will be experienced in securing the requested number of subscribers.

FIRST AID TO THE INJURED

A Commendable Policy of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Of such value does the Canadian Pacific Railway consider its "First Aid to the Injured" work that it is now extending its sphere of activities in this connection. Formerly the Railway's "First Aid" work was largely confined to the employees of its operating departments, but now the work is being extended to all classes of employees, classes being formed among the clerks and office staffs. This is being done not so much for the advantage of the railway itself, but from a feeling which those at the head of the railway have that everybody should have at least a rudimentary knowledge of "First Aid." Its together on the Canadian Pacific Railway system there are now about between 7000 and 8000 men enrolled in the classes, among the cities and towns in which those classes are situated, being Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria, Brandon, Carleton Place, Port William, Port Arthur, Hochilaga, Kenora, Nelson, North Bay, Ottawa, Outremont, Smith Falls, St. John, Havelock, London, Harbham, McAdam Junction, Windsor, W. E. Holt, Goderich, Fort Berry, Chappleau, Schriber, White River, Webbwood, Sault Ste Marie, Sudbury and Bing Inlet. Altogether there are over 100 classes, Montreal heading the list with ten classes.

Be Warned by Headache

IT TELLS OF SERIOUS DERANGEMENTS OF THE LIVER AND KIDNEYS

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

You can stop a headache with powerful drugs. But it is not generally wise to do so.

A headache almost always warns you of derangements of the digestive system, the liver, kidneys or bowels.

Awaken the liver to healthful action by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and you not only free yourself of headache, but remove the cause which will soon lead to more dangerous results than headache.

Invigorate the action of the kidneys by this treatment and you take away the dangers of Bright's disease as well as free yourself of headache.

Pains are the result of poison in the system and whether you have headache, backache or aching limbs, you can be almost sure of relief and cure when you cleanse and regulate the vital organs by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

They are wonderfully prompt, as well as definite and thorough in action. You can depend upon them, no matter how long-standing or complicated your case, so long as the cause is the sluggish, torpid condition of the liver and kidneys.

If you don't feel like risking 25 cents for a box, write for a free sample. A trial will convince you of their merits. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box; all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The Wrong Signal

The children of an infant school in Wales are taught very much by signs. It seems that they learned their lessons only too well.

The hand of the teacher sloped signifies "oblique," the hand held flat "horizontal," the hand upright "perpendicular."

A bishop was preaching one day on behalf of the school, when observing several children whispering together, he held his hand upright in a warning manner, meaning thereby to impress silence.

On which almost the whole school, in the midst of the sermon, shouted out, "Perpendicular."

Fishing methods in the seas around Japan have been radically changed by the introduction of English steam trawlers. New fishing banks of great value have been discovered, which could never have been fished by the native craft.

The greatest amount of good is performed by neighbors every day. If the little help afforded every day could be known, and represented in a bulk sum, it would amount to millions.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has given a contract to the John S. Metcalfe Co., Ltd., Montreal, for the 700 feet of cribbed wharf with reinforced concrete superstructure at Victoria Harbor, Ont., in addition to the 6,500 feet of wharf already built and under construction by the Metcalfe Co.

Novel Models

Whether tiny working models of machinery are worth the labor they cost or not, such a collection of marvels as British amateurs have brought together in the London Exhibition of Engineering Models is at least highly instructive. For the most part, such productions seem to represent the diversion of persons engaged in employment very different from machine-making. At this exhibition about 100 entries were made by many varied trades—a working steam engine, small enough to stand on a three-penny piece being one of the smallest engines made by three Scotch miners; a complete working model of the Mauretania, the work of a bricklayer of 67, and a traction engine, including water tube boiler, and superheater, the result of a Surrey gardener's spare time efforts.

More nearly in the line of his usual occupation is the North London official's modern engineering workshop, on the scale of an inch to a foot. In a space of 5½ by 2 feet, this has working models of screw-cutting lathes, planing, milling and drilling machines, etc., with an overhead travelling crane, the necessary shafting, pulleys and belts and an engine supplying motive power. The floor is made up of 9,000 boxwood blocks. This workshop occupied the maker's spare hours for 16 years and is valued at $5,000.

"Hello, Jack, old boy, writing home for money?" "No." "What are you taking so much trouble over then? You've been fussing and fuming over it for the last two hours." "I'm trying to write home without asking for money."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

If father is always busy reading, is he a Reading, Pa?

As the poisoning of the harmful bacteria in the soil may injuriously affect useful plants, a French agriculturist has proposed the use of a battery of four jars, charged from a Holz induction machine. The wire was heated other electric currents being suitable for this. When quite hot, increasing the spark-gap until no spark crossed it caused the wire to give out a musical note, and at the same time to sway in oscillations of half an inch or more. The cold wire did not oscillate. The sound varied with the temperature, and with other conditions not well understood.

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used. If attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. For Frost Bites and Chilblains.—Chilblains come from undue exposure to slush and cold and frost-bite from the icy winds of winter. In the treatment of either there is no better preparation than Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, as it counteracts the inflammation and relieves the pain. The action of the oil is instantaneous and its application is extremely simple.

A WARNING TO MOTHERS

No mother can expect her little one to escape all the ills of childhood, but every mother who accepts fair warning as to the treatment of these little ills can save her baby such suffering. Thousands of mothers of young children keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house—all mothers should do so. The Tablets are a never-failing cure for all the minor ills of babyhood and childhood. They can be given with perfect safety—they always do good; never harm. Constipation, indigestion, colic, simple fevers, colds, etc., all rapidly disappear under treatment with the Tablets. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Concrete Sidewalks are Safe, Sightly and Everlasting

LUMBER used in damp places and on wet ground—as, for instance, in walks—has a very short life. It requires almost constant repairing and, in a few years, needs replacing.

Concrete, on the other hand, improves with age, and the very dampness which destroys lumber calls out the best qualities of the cement by making it harder and harder—until neither time nor traffic can affect it.

The best of wooden walks keep getting out of repair, and are a continual menace to life and limb. They are also a frequent source of expensive doctor bills and lost time. Then again, they are likely to eat up the original cost in repairs before they are replaced. Concrete walks are sightly, everlasting and safe. They cost less to build and need no repairing nor painting.

Write for our free book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete."

It tells in plain, simple language, how you can save money on farm construction by using cement for Barns, Dairies, Foundations, Fence Posts, Troughs, Feeding Floors, Hitching Posts, Stalls, Silos, Stairs, and so forth. The Book is well illustrated with photographs, plans and diagrams. Fill out the coupon or send a postal to-day.

A BLIGHT

A Story of a Negro Whom a
Hunt Always Attended

By F. A. MITCHEL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

The year 1860 marked the acme of plantation life in the south, a life which only persons now quite old have lived. There were two sides to slavery—the one as represented by the kind master, the other by the man who considered his slave as a mere piece of property. Naturally the families of the more refined class of planters formed a society of their own, and it was among these especially that instances of fidelity and attachment occurred. Born to be ruled and taken care of by their masters as a child is brought up by its parents, many of these negroes, after the war had set them free, clung to their former owners and the old plantation homes. It was there that the negro worked by day in the cotton field and in the evening sang those melodies, a product of the period, expressing a condition that died with the advent of emancipation. The relations between master and slave have passed away with the system, and the following incident, told me a few years after the close of the war which abolished that system, could not possibly occur today:

After the surrender at Appomattox I had occasion to travel through a portion of the south. In Tennessee I found a plantation to which a large number of the negroes who had lived on it as slaves adhered as freed men. Their master, quite an old man now, paid them wages, which they had not as yet learned to handle for themselves. Interested to know how they liked the change, I approached a darky about thirty years old who was sawing wood and I questioned him.

"Do you darkies like the way you live better than when you were slaves?"

"None ob em 'pears to like it, if they like to work. Them that don't like to work don't like it so well as befo, 'cause if dey don't work dey don't git nothin to eat."

"How do you feel about it?"

"Ma case air quaf. I ain't got no feelins about it. Dere's a hant what gins around with me not a real hant ruled up in a sheet, but a hant ob de feelins. I don't take no interest in anything. I'm a kind ob a dead nig."

He had stopped in his wood sawing and looked out over the landscape with a sorrowful gaze. I waited, feeling that he had a story to tell and he would tell it without urging. I was not disappointed.

I was born on de plantation, 'on de same day as Missy Della, an' her daddy was my mothe. Conscience was dat when we two children was little we was togedder all de time. I bearn people say when we was three or four years old, goin' round with our s'moun each udder, how quar my dark face looked alongside her white one to her skin was white an' pink, an' her hair was like yaller silk.

When Missy Della growed older she couldn't do nuff for me, an' I was jist ready to give up de ghost for her any time. Kif she wanted anything done all she had to do was to say, 'Julius, you do dat fo' me, won't you, please?' Lawd, what de use ob speak in dat way to a nigger? I done it mighty quick, an' I wanted to keep on doin' things lak dat to her all de time. I couldn't git nuff ob 'em to do.

"Then 'tunnel St. Clair's son, Harry, come along, an' I saw might quick dat he an' Missy Della war rubbers. He war a fine lookin' young man—Mars Harry war—tall an' straight, with black curly hair, an' might dif'ent from Missy Della, who looked lak a peach. When his father gwine die he had a big plantation an' a thousant niggers. It was all settled dat Missy Della gwine to marry him when de war broke out.

"Come Mars Harry he gwine to de war lak de nigger young gentlemen. He go with de cavalry as cap'n. Do yo see dat gallery up dah front ob de plantation house? Well, it war right dat dat Missy Della says to me, 'Julius, will yo do somethin' for me?' An' I says, 'Missy Della, to yo I go right down to de river an' drown myself. An' she says: 'I don't want yo' to drown yourself. I want yo' to be 'Wha fo, Missy Della? 'Fo' to take care my Harry. I want yo' to go to de war with him as his servant, to take care ob his horse an' all dat, an' I want yo' to keep him from bein' as much as yo' kin. An' if he gets sick or wounded I want yo' to take care ob him an' send or bring me word as soon as possible. Will yo' do dat fo' me, Julius?"

"Her eyes war wet when she said dis, an' I lak to cried myself, s'ber cry. An' I said, 'Missy Della, I go with Mars Harry an' I bring him back safe an' soon to you, ma boney."

"We was standin' right on de top step up dah between de two pillars to de middle. She tak me hand in dose ob her an' look at me out ob her eyes as if heuten war on de udder side ob 'em. Den she turned an' went into de house.

NOTHING LIKE THEM FOR A SORE BACK

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS STILL DO-ING GREAT WORK

Mrs. T. G. Alexander, of Hawthorne, after twelve years' suffering, tells the public what they are doing for her.

Hawthorne, Ont. (Special).—"There is nothing like Dodd's Kidney Pills for a sore back." That is the statement of Mrs. T. G. Alexander, of this place, and all her neighbors agree that she should know. "I suffered for twelve years from a pain in my back, Rheumatism and Heart Disease," Mrs. Alexander continues. "I was always tired and nervous and my sleep was broken and unrefreshing. Since taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I am feeling so much better that I feel I must say a good word for them."

No matter how long you have suffered Dodd's Kidney Pills cannot fail to help you if your trouble is of the Kidneys. If you use Dodd's Kidney Pills early the cure will be quick. If your trouble is of long standing it will take them longer to cure you. But they always cure. People from all parts of Canada who have been cured are telling about it in the newspapers almost every day.

to go back when I bearn a clatter ob critters' boots on de road above an' saw a lot ob bluecoats gallopin' past toward de house whar Mars Harry war writin' de lub letter to Missy Della.

"I want to kill somebody sartin. I got on ma horse an' ridin' back to de road, saw de gal dat brought de trouble on me skunkin' away. I fired ma revolver at her. Den I rode on, follerin' de Yanks. I bearn shootin' ahead, but when I got to de house whar Mars Harry war writin' he lub letter de sojers war all gone. But dar beside de road I saw what hants me eber since."

He put his hand to his eyes as if to shut out some painful sight. Presently he moaned:

"Mars Harry lyin' dar shot dead."

For that few minutes he had been tempted to reins his watchfulness he was paying a lifelong penalty. Possibly he had dwelt upon his fault so long that it had affected his mind. I wondered at the love this black man had for one whom he considered so far his superior—the daughter of the man who had owned him and could have sold him as a horse or a dog.

"I knelt down beside him," he continued, "an' called to him: 'Mars Harry, come to life ag'in an' beume be daid in yo' place. I can't live to face Missy Della nohow. How I gwine to go through life with this curse on me? Come back, Mars Harry; come back to Missy Della. She can't go through de worl' without yo'."

"But he didn't wake up no mo', an' when I see it wa'n't no use talkin' to him I tuk him up an' carried him into de house. An' den I got a wagon an' driv him to de plantation."

He made an effort to tell me of his reception there, but failed.

"How did your mistress treat you after the misfortune?" I asked.

"Misfortune! Dat wa'n't no misfortune; dat war jeydin to temptation. I's ope ob de goats dat is taken from de sheep. Kif I hadn't listened to dat gal Mars Harry wouldn't 'a got killed. I didn't hab de courage to go back to de plantation to a long time; den I sneaked in among de udder niggers an' hid in de barn. Some nigger sor me an' tole Missy Della I was come home. She bearn all about how Mars Harry got killed, an' thar wa'n't anything fo' me to fess. She sent to me to come up to de house. My legs beady carried me dar. Missy Della war standin' by herself in de hall. I stood at de do'. When she sor me she put up her han'—cheekst to her eyes an' held out her hand to me. She didn't say a word, but I knowed she forgib me.

"Dat didn't do me no good," he continued after a pause, "cause I didn't forgib myself."

"Is your mistress livin' at the plantation house now?" I asked.

"I reckon she is dar or I wouldn't be hear. Much as I respect mars, I wouldn't stay hear if missy war away. I doin' penance. De plantation runnin' down since de prockemation de niggers dat lak to work lak to work fo' thairselfes. De udders won't work nohow. Himby all go to de debil; den I gib my armin' to missy."

At that moment a woman dressed in deep mourning came out of the front door of the manor house and stood looking pensively on the landscape.

"Dat Missy Della," said Julius, looking at the lady, the usual melancholy of his eye intensified. "She neber git ober it. I neber git ober it. She war stricken in de heart; I war stricken in de teetin'. In de day I see missy mow'nin'; in de night I wake up an' see Mars Harry lyin' dead in de road."

No wonder a man worries; he has so much to worry about. There the foolish things he does; he worries about these almost as much as he worries about the wise things he has neglected to do.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

Could Hardly Eat. Gradually
Grew Worse. Relieved by Peruna.

Mr. A. M. Ikard, Box 31, West Burlington, Iowa, writes:

"I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestines for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief, and finally one of my doctors sent me to Chicago, and I met the same fate. They said they could do nothing for me; said I had cancer of the stomach and there was no cure. I almost thought the same, for my breath was offensive and I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually grew worse.

"Finally I concluded to try Peruna, and I found relief and a cure for that dreadful disease, catarrh. I took five bottles of Peruna and two of Manalin, and I now feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peruna, and I keep a bottle of it in my house all the time."

THE HAIL INSURANCE

FARMERS SUGGEST THAT PRESENT SYSTEM BE CHANGED

United Farmers of Alberta Are Taking an Active Interest in the Hail Insurance Question, and Many Resolutions Offering Suggestions Have Been Passed and Will Be Presented to Government for Consideration.

Calgary.—That some radical change in the hail insurance system of Alberta is necessary, is evidenced by the deluge of complaints and resolutions which have poured in upon E. J. Fream, secretary of the United Farmers of Alberta, within the last two months. The complaints are in many cases individual, but they are frequently supported by corroborative evidence from members of local unions and by resolutions suggesting various remedies. Of the three hundred and more local unions in the province, 150 have passed resolutions asking for remedies of some kind, and the majority of the others will follow within the next month or two.

In the main, the charges are that the present system of hail insurance, through the treasury department of the government, is inadequate. Delay in acknowledging premiums and paying liabilities, unsatisfactory and inadequate inspection and adjusters are a few of the charges urged against the present system of hail insurance by the farmers in the province.

Recommendations for compulsory hail insurance or for voluntary insurance with a system of public ownership, under the management of an independent commission, are being made by those districts which have suffered most and which are anxious to hasten action in the matter.

At present nothing definite is under contemplation at the headquarters of the U. F. A. here. Hail insurance has been a stock-bone of contention since before 1906. Mr. Fream is at present at work preparing a synopsis of the expressions of the various local unions, to be presented to the annual convention in Red Deer on January 16.

By the present system postmasters and secretaries of school districts are authorized to collect premiums at the rate of 25 cents per acre; to secure the maximum indemnity of $4 per acre. The farmer must pay a commission of 50 cents to the agent to cover the cost of remitting the money to Edmonton, and the farmer is not entitled to the benefits until acknowledgment of the receipt of the money is received from the treasury department. Herein lies the first batch of grievances. The commission paid to the agent is not sufficient to induce him to take a careful interest in the work; the indemnity is not sufficient to secure the farmer against bankruptcy in severe cases; the government is so slow in making acknowledgments that many farmers are victims of the storm before their insurance is secured.

It is also declared that the inspectors are too few and the territory too large, and that this results in serious delay. In several districts inspectors are charged with "skipping" some of their territory, and of making unnecessary trips. Notice of hail must be sent by the farmer to the department by registered mail; the government then forwards lists to the inspector, and delay and much useless travelling is occasioned by the carelessness of the clerks of the department.

One case has been cited to the secretary of the U. F. A., this year, of a farmer's premium being returned to him two months after the government had acknowledged the receipt of the money and the acceptance of the risk. In seven cases in one district the government is alleged to have refused to pay the indemnity on the ground that the crop was hailed out before the money was acknowledged, while the farmers assert that the premiums were deposited with the local agent some time before any storm occurred.

In another case a farmer charges that his papers were returned, marked as refused, at the end of the season, but the money was retained. He was not entitled to indemnity, as his crop was a full one.

Compulsory insurance under an independent commission is the ideal most frequently advanced. The reorganization of the treasury department and the placing of the insurance scheme on a more businesslike basis by a few minor reforms is the suggestion of farmers in districts infrequently affected. And it is said that in towns and cities there is already an embryo agitation to ask that the government abandon the whole scheme in favor of the private company.

Nothing Definite About Canadians

Ottawa.—In answer to a question put by Mr. Clarke, Essex, Mr. Bowden, in the house, said he had made inquiries as to the safety of Canadian missionaries in disturbed districts of the Chinese empire. The matter had been put before the foreign office of the British government, and assurances had been received that the office would take all possible steps to assure the safety of Canadians and British subjects in China. Also the governor-general had received a cable from the secretary of state for the colonies in effect that as yet it was impossible to ascertain just what the situation of the Canadians threatened in China was.

THE FEMALE WAGE-EARNER

Make Provision for Your Future By Putting Away a Portion of Your Monthly Earnings

"Is it possible for a female wage-earner to save from her monthly wage an amount which in the aggregate will be sufficient to provide her with an income from the time her earning days are over?" was recently the subject of an interesting discussion at a Woman's Club, and the conclusion came to was, that if the wage-earner were earning less than $500 a year this would be extremely difficult. For the purpose of illustration, the period of accumulation was assumed to be from 23 to 60, and the amount of capital required $6,000, in order to yield an income of $300 a year, which was considered to be the minimum amount on which she could maintain herself with comfort and respectability. All this may be quite true. But there is another plan of investment of which the ladies had evidently not heard, namely, the Canadian Government Annuities system, which is not only absolutely safe, but which will give a much larger return for a much smaller investment, and larger it may be said than any other plan available will give as a means of making provision for old age.

For example, if a woman of 23 were to deposit with the Government yearly the sum of $39.24 until she was 60, which she could do by weekly or monthly instalments if she preferred, or a total of $1451.88 only, the Government would pay her $300 a year or $75 every three months so long as she might live from and after 60. If she died before attaining that age, the total payments made with 3 per cent. compound interest would be refunded to her heirs. If she died at 58 they would receive $245.77, or $1059.77 more than she had paid in up to that time.

If she had no one dependent upon her and was concerned about herself only, she could secure under the "B" plan the same quarterly income of $75 for an annual payment of $29.67, or for a total paid in of $1087.79—a yearly return for life no matter how long that may be of nearly 30 per cent. of the sum invested.

Mark the enormous difference: on the one hand she would require at 60 a capital of $6000 invested at 5 per cent. to yield her an income of $300, in all the accompanying anxiety of making safe investments over the accumulating period. In ninety-nine cases out of one hundred she would not, having regard to the recurring temptation to use the money, have the capital at 60 which would be necessary to give the income. You have only to write (postage free) to the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa, to obtain full information in regard to this provident scheme.

B. C. SHOULD TAKE OVER YUKON

A B. C. Newspaper Insists That the Gold Territory Would Be Greatly Benefitted Through It

Vancouver.—Unique proposal is advanced by The Phoenix Pioneer, in the form of a resolution for consideration at the fifth annual convention of the British Columbia Conservative Association, the resolution in effect says:

"The time is now opportune to urge upon the Canadian government desirability of annexing to British Columbia the whole Yukon territory."

Supporting this resolution The Pioneer says: "A sufficient excuse for this resolution is the undoubted resiliency of British Columbia mining laws and their administration, compared with scandalous methods heretofore in vogue in the Yukon methods that have brought the blush of shame to thousands of Canadians. It may be further urged that the Yukon will proceed by leaps and bounds once it is annexed to British Columbia, more especially as completion of the Panama canal is certain to double the riches and importance of British Columbia within a few years."

CALGARY FAIR JUNE 28-JULY 7

Over Seventeen Thousand Dollars Set Aside for the Races—First Fair in Circuit

Calgary.—The 1912 Calgary exhibition will be held June 28 to July 7.

These dates were decided upon at a meeting of the directorate held recently when matters pertaining to the next annual fair were discussed.

The western circuit has been arranged in the following order: "Calgary, Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton, and probably Lethbridge.

The amount of $17,550 will be spent on the races next year.

The report of the racing committee which was adopted provides for $8,500 for running races, and $9,050 for harness races. Additional sums will be provided for stake races.

Up to date $450 has been spent on the track and the work of resurfacing is progressing splendidly. To facilitate the hauling of earth a temporary bridge has been built over the Elbow river.

Another meeting of the racing committee will be held shortly to complete the programme of races at the fair.

The lighting committee accepted the tender of the Cunningham Electric Light Co. for the wiring and fixtures of the new horse show building, their tender being the lowest.

Eighteen directors were present at the meeting.

WHEAT KING HONORED

ROSTERN HONORS WINNER OF SHAUGHNESSY PRIZE

Governor Brown, of Saskatchewan, and Many Other Notables Present—Messages of Congratulations from Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and Premier Hon. Walter Scott—A Big Time and a Big Turn-Out.

Rosthern, Sask.—An eminently fitting celebration to mark the remarkable achievement was the banquet tendered to Segar Wheeler here, winner of the thousand dollar prize given by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, at the New York land show. The variety which Wheeler started to raise last year. Efforts were made to have Sir Thomas Shaughnessy at the Rosthern banquet, but the railway magnate wired his regrets, and included a congratulatory message to Mr. Wheeler. Letters and wires were read from Premier Scott of Saskatchewan; Premier Roblin, of Manitoba; Premier Sifton, of Alberta; F. W. G. Haultain, E. J. Chamberlain and members of the Saskatchewan legislature; Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture of Alberta; ex-Mayor Hopkins, Saskatoon; Mayor McAr, Regina; Mayor Fleming, Brandon.

Merchard Ens, member of the legislature for Rosthern, made a capital chairman. Lieut.-Governor Brown, of Saskatchewan, graced the proceedings by his presence, and, with Segar Wheeler, had a seat alongside the chairman. Among others present were Hon. Turgeon, attorney-general; Mr. Motherwell, minister of agriculture; Hon. A. P. McNab, municipal commissioner of Saskatchewan; Dean Rutherford, of the University of Saskatchewan; Mayor Holmes, Prince Albert; Thomas McKay, ex-M. L. A., Prince Albert, and others.

The town hall was gorgeously decorated with flags, bunting and wheat. A quantity of the wheat which won the prize and many other varieties of wheat arranged in the hall created a great deal of interest.

Lieut.-Gov. Brown, who had been tendered a civic reception at Rosthern and who later visited the Wheeler farm, five miles east of town, thanked the citizens of Rosthern for their very cordial reception. The record of Rosthern was one of progress and advancement. Perseverance and faith of Rosthern settlers had been an incentive to other settlements. They had met that night to do honor to one of their settlers. Agriculture being the leading industry of the province, it was not wise to allow the remarkable achievement of Segar Wheeler to go unrecognized, and Wheeler won this prize at New York with Marquis, a new variety of wheat, in competition with older varieties. Through Wheeler's enterprise, it proved that Rosthern, Saskatchewan, raised the best wheat in the world. Wheeler had the courage to raise this wheat and exhibit it at New York in face of the strongest competition. Many others might raise excellent wheat, and, lacking Wheeler's courage, never know it was the best wheat in the world. "In the south part of the province we are as proud of Wheeler's success as you are. It means dollars to every farmer in the province. Saskatchewan produces two-thirds of the wheat raised in all Canada. Canada is eighth in the list of wheat-producing countries in the world."

RECORD PRICE FOR JATTLE

Montana Grass Fed Steers Sell at $7.90 And Are in Great Demand in that City

Chicago.—An unprecedented high price paid here recently for range cattle has called attention to a condition which stockmen say threatens to maintain high prices of meat unless it is met by activity among cornbelt stock raisers.

F. A. Meinrich of Montana was paid $7.90 a hundred pounds for 20 head of cattle that never had eaten other than grass of the open range, a price never before attained on the Chicago cattle market for range stock. The previous highest price was $7.60, paid in October, 1909, to another Montana stock raiser. The high priced cattle were 4-year-olds, averaging 1520 pounds, and were destined for the Boston market. The daily receipts being nearly 1,000 a day less than at this time last year, according to statisticians, indicate that range cattle practically are on the down grade in point of numbers.

Object to Improve Domestic Service

Calgary.—A committee has been appointed by the Women's Industrial Council with the object of improving domestic service as a career for industrial women, says M. A. P. The first step which they will take will be to institute a wide-spread inquiry into existing conditions, and into the desirability of such reforms as have been proposed in domestic service generally. A somewhat similar investigation was made, it may be remembered, about ten years ago, and the results published in an article by Miss Catherine Webb, in the Nineteenth Century for June, 1903. In that case, however, the replies to the questions asked were chiefly from mistresses and heads of institutions, whereas in this case, the opinions of servants themselves are also to be obtained through the agency of the Girls' Friendly Society, the M. A. B. P. S. Girls clubs, and kindred institutions.

HEAVY ROCK WORK

Difficulties Experienced by Canadian Northern Railway in British Columbia

A piece of railway construction that is almost unique is now under way on the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Northern Railway. It is a three mile stretch between Spence's Bridge and Walhachin located at a point about an equal distance from the town of Lytton and Ascroft and in that strip of right of way four tunnels are to be built. One will be fifteen hundred feet in length, another a thousand feet and the two others five hundred feet each.

Recently six hundred men were employed there, but this number will probably be doubled in the immediate future. Owing to the anxiety of the Canadian Northern to complete the entire section of their line from Edmonton to Vancouver it is probable that construction work will be proceeded with during the winter. This, however, should prove in no sense a hardship because of the mellow climate of the coast province and of the fact that this underground cutting will place the men employed beyond the interference of conditions obtaining outside.

In addition to this section of heavy rock work there are two other tunnels to be built in this mountain district that are even of greater size. One of these, which is located near the town of Yale is to be almost half a mile long, or to be exact 2,070 feet. The other bore is to be made in the Ascroft. Already the contractor in charge is busy at work on the Yale tunnel and a very large staff of men is employed. The portals have been driven at both ends and the drillers are hard at work. The job will be pushed forward as vigorously as possible and there seems to be no scarcity of white labor.

REASONS FOR DELAYED FREIGHT

Complaints Are Very Numerous About the Bad Freight Service in the West

Brandon.—Complaints are very numerous just now in regard to delayed freight shipments on all lines, from the east and west and on local shipments. Shippers say that goods coming from Japan were weeks longer in getting here than they should be and when they did come they had been laid out in Winnipeg for ten days. One of the main causes of the trouble lies in the fact that the commencement of wheat movement was over thirty days later this year than in the average season and the rush now has demoralized other freight traffic. Another reason given for the trouble is that the railways are compelled to give all their attention to hauling of coal for the west. The extent of the coal traffic may be imagined when it is understood that for its own use the Canadian Pacific is compelled to get a hundred carloads daily. Another cause that adds to the trouble is the intense cold, which has reduced the carrying capacity of roads fully 25 per cent. Meantime wholesale and retail dealers and manufacturing concerns are greatly inconvenienced by the slow movement of freight.

INVOKED THE BLESSING OF GOD

"Pray and Fight" Women's Motto—Parts of London Resemble Tripoli

London.—"Pray and Fight," is the motto of the militant women seeking the franchise in the United Kingdom, who wrought great havoc in the west end of London, and who are going to prison for principle.

In accordance with the plan adopted, women in most sections of the metropolis entered places of worship during the morning and afternoon, knelt in silent prayer and then went forth to take their share in the night's fighting.

In some instances ministers joined in the prayers, asking the blessing of Providence on the women's cause. Evidences of the grit and effectiveness with which they protest against manhood suffrage was very plain.

Parliament street and Parliament Square suggested pictures of Tripoli after the Italian bombardment. Within the space of 100 yards, the correspondent of the Daily News counted 75 glaziers replacing broken window panes, while innumerable other breakages awaited their services. The work of the glaziers, some at second and third windows, the majority at windows on the ground floors, attracted the attention of large and smiling crowds of men and boys, but scarcely a woman was to be seen.

FAT STOCK SHOW IN APRIL

Two Shows to Be Held in 1912—Important Decision by Executive

Calgary.—The Provincial Fat Stock show will be held in April at the time of the Horse Show for the last time. After next year the show will be held in December at the time of the poultry show.

The reasons for the change from a spring to a midwinter show are that the stock are in their best condition about December. There will be two shows in 1912. The spring show will be April 8 to 12.

Livestock Commissioner Stevens and Immigration Commissioner Hotchkiss were appointed to represent the Alberta Breeders at Toronto when a conference will be held with the railway companies to talk about freight rates on live stock.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON X.—FOURTH QUARTER, FOR DEC. 8, 1911.

Text of the Lesson Neh. iv, 6-18. Memory Verses, 16, 17—Golden Text, 1 Cor. xvi, 13—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Our lesson topic today is the building of a great wall by such unlikely instruments that their enemies had to confess that the work was wrought of God (vi, 16). They had a mind to work, they watched and prayed while they wrought, and they did the work nearest to them. As to their having a mind to work (verse 6), we cannot but think of the willing men and women and the willing offerings of Ex. xxxv, 21-29, and of David's preparing with all his might for the house of his God because he had set his affection upon it (1 Chron. xxix, 2, 3); of Hek-kiah also, who wrought that which was good and right and truth before the Lord his God and did it with all his heart and prospered (11 Chron. xxxi, 20, 21). We cannot all do as we would like to nor as some others do, but "if there be first a willing mind it is accepted according to that a man hath not." And we are only expected to minister as of the ability which God giveth (11 Cor. viii, 12; 1 Pet. iv, 11). The time will come when in an unprecedented way His people shall be willing in the day of His power (Ps. cx, 3). As to watching and praying see Mark xiii, 33-37; xiv, 38. Observe in chapter iii, 5, 8, 12, 17, 22, the kind of people who builded—goldsmiths, apothecaries, merchants, priests, Levites, rulers' daughters and rulers—but note that certain nobles put not their necks to the work of the Lord. In verses 23, 28, 29, we read that some repaired "over against his house" or "by his house," suggesting that we should be ready to do the thing that is at hand to be done, "ready to do whatever our Lord the King shall appoint" (11 Sam. xv, 15). Even though some may refuse, the work shall be finished, for "He shall not fail nor be discouraged" (Isa. xlii, 4). It is worthy of note that the work began and ended at the sheep gate (iii, 1, 32), which suggests to me that there can be no work for God until redeemed by the blood of the Lamb, and the completed church will sing, "Thou hast redeemed us to God by thy blood." Nehemiah found many enemies who not only ridiculed the work and the workers, but conspired against them to hinder it (iv, 1-3, 7, 8, 11). So it has been since Cain killed Abel and will be until the great last gathering of the enemy and his hosts against the Lamb and His redeemed ones just before the millennium and a very last and final conflict at the end of the thousand years (Rev. xvii, 14; xix, 19, 20; xx, 7-10). Every day the conflict is on, but we may be overcomers and quench all the fiery darts, for the armor and the weapon are all sufficient (1 Pet. v, 8, 9; Eph. vi, 10-18; Rev. xii, 11). It is bad enough to have enemies without, but when there are complainers and discouraged people within the camp it seems a bit worse. When those who ought to be of one accord on the Lord's side and of good courage are heard saying, "The strength of the burden bearers is decayed, there is much rubbish, so that we are not able to build" (verse 10), then much grace is required to sustain those who are pressing on in the conflict, but God is able to make all grace abound (11 Cor. ix, 8), and we must learn to see no man any more save Jesus only with ourselves (Mark ix, 8). It is only as we are of good courage and strong in the Lord that we can encourage others and say, as Nehemiah said: "Be not afraid of them. Remember the Lord, great and terrible" (verse 14). The words of Isa. ii, 12, 13, are strong and helpful, "I, even I, am He that comforteth you. Who art thou that thou shouldst be afraid of a man?"

And forgettest the Lord thy maker? To which we ought to reply: "Behold, God is my salvation. I will trust and not be afraid" (Isa. xli, 2). "The Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?" (Ps. xxvii, 1). God brought the counsel of the enemy to naught (verse 15), as He always will. "The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to naught. He maketh the devices of the people of none effect. The counsel of the Lord standeth forever, the thoughts of His heart to all generations" (Ps. xxxiii, 10, 11). See also Isa. viii, 9, 10. So they returned every one unto His work, reminding us that the Lord has given "to every one His work" (Mark xiii, 24). It has long been a comfort to me that all our good works are prepared beforehand for us to walk in (Eph. ii, 10), and we have a right to say concerning all that comes "prepared for me." All that comes or does not come is the best that His infinite love and wisdom can plan for us. We learn from verse 16 that they also serve who only stand and wait, which is not a quotation from Scripture, but it is a very Scriptural quotation, as we learn also from 1 Sam. xxx, 24, where those who tarry by the staff were to share equally with those who went to the battle. Working with one hand and holding a weapon with the other (verse 17) reminds us somewhat of Gideon's men with a trumpet in one hand and a pitcher containing a lamp of torch in the other (Judg. vii, 16). The victory that day was grand, and the Lord did it.

A Drive

—BY—
Pearl Bryenton
Standard III

It was a glorious day. As I went for a ride I could hear the blowing of the wind in the tops of the trees. The pigeons were cooing softly and gently. In the farm yard the children were playing gaily.

The sun was shining on the crystal water and made it look very pretty. The water was running over little pebbles and made sweet sounds.

As I rode closely into town I could hear the hoarse whistle of the train which lighted the railroad with its magical light.

When I rode out of town I could hear nothing save the tinkle tinkle of the bells on the cows.

I saw the sun going to sleep beneath the horizon. It looked as if it were a very large fire in the west. I enjoyed my ride very much.

The Stolen Dog

—BY—
Mable Campbell

Once upon a time there lived a little boy whose parents were very kind and good to him.

One day some travellers came to that town and put up their tent on the prairie. This little boy was out for a walk. Very soon an auto came by and under the seat sat a little dog. The dog started to bark at him and fell out. The owner did not notice that he was out and when they got a little distance away he carried the dog home. He tied him in an old stable for he did not want his parents to see him.

That night the boys father told him not to go near the men that were camping because that they bought dogs.

Of course the father was just joking for he had found out about Henry's dog.

Henry did not say anything but early in the morning he got up out bed and went to where the dog was. He took the rope off him and carried him under his coat to the campers. When he got there he said "What do you pay for dogs?"

One man said "Let me see your dog." So Henry took the dog from under his coat. The man stroked it lovingly and handed it back to the boy. He told him that he would buy him for two dollars so him boy readily agreed and gave the dog.

The next week he was reading a paper when his eye caught a glimpse of something that surprised him very much. It was about Mr J Jones's offer for any body that found his dog, and the reward was ten dollars. He felt full of grief and thought what a fool he was to disobey his father.

The man did not give him any money but said "This dog is not yours because it says on the collar

J Jones and that is not your name. The man told him to run quickly away or he would make soup of him. The boy ran off feeling very bad and when he got home his two big sisters asked why he was so dumpy. But the boy never answered a word.

But that advertisement was in the paper so often that it grieved him every time he picked up the paper. Mr Jones never found his dog but Henry was found out and was fined $5.00 for stealing.

The Empty Basket

—BY—
Jennie Shenfield

One day a poor little girl came into a store. She carried an empty basket. The store-keeper asked her what she wanted and she told him. Not being able to pay for the goods he would not let her have them. A lady sat on a chair near by and watched the child. Suddenly the little girl started to cry.

The store keeper said "They have been able to pay just till a week or so ago. They just don't want to that's all. Lots of people are like that."

The woman went over to the little girl and asked her what was the matter? She said "we all are so hungry, mother is ill and father is going to die. I have only had a crust."

The woman said "but what's that in your basket dear?" The child looked there at the bottom of the basket was a half sovereign.

"I did not take it" she said. The woman said "I know you did not. I put it there I really needed it but God taught me to be kind."

The child's eyes filled with pleasure and the woman went to the counter and got her all the groceries. She told the girl to go home and she would come and see them some day. The girl went home happy with her basket full instead of empty.

A Christmas Story

—BY—
Margaret Campbell

There once lived in France a happy little maid named Piccola.

Her father had died when she was a baby and her mother was very poor. Piccola made stockings and sold them. She often fed the snowbirds if she could find any crumbs. One day Piccola said to her mother "I wonder what St. Nicholas will bring me this year." Her mother said "You must not expect to get some presents this year."

Little Piccola put her wooden shoe on the hearth on Christmas Eve. When Piccola awoke she ran to her shoe and she found a little sparrow. It was cold and hungry. Piccola fed and warmed the bird and caressed it all winter.

In the summer she opened the window and let the bird fly away. But it made a nest in the wood and sang its sweetest songs near her door.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write our Association and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

THE STAIRCASE TEST

IF YOU CANNOT PASS IT YOUR HEALTH IS FAILING

When you suffer acute palpitation of the heart, dizziness or faintness every time you go up stairs; when exertion of any kind leaves you breathless and trembling, it is a warning that your blood is defective—that you are anaemic. If these warnings are neglected worse disorders will follow—perhaps decline and deadly consumption. If you are in this condition you need the new, good blood of health that has been given to thousands of sufferers by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills banish all the ailments arising from poor blood, tone up the system and make weak men and women well and strong. Miss Elizabeth Campbell, Almonte, Ont., says: "I was living in Pembroke at the time my health failed me. I kept growing weaker every day until I at last grew so weak I could not walk up stairs without help, and I could not go down street without sitting down and resting. My mother got quite anxious about me and took me to a doctor who said he was quite sure he could restore my health. He gave me a bottle of medicine, and I continued its use until I had taken four bottles, but instead of getting stronger I was growing weaker all the time, and was only a mere shadow of my former self. My parents believed I was in a decline and could not get better. My mother had heard so much of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that she decided I ought to try them. I did not notice much change until I had taken five or six boxes, when a decided improvement set in, and from that on I grew stronger and stronger each day, until through a continued use of the pills I was back to my old-time health and strength. I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best remedy on earth for sick people, and cannot too strongly urge other weak girls to give them a trial."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Secret Test

"How," the president of the Fat Man's club was asked, "did you prevent fraud among your applicants for membership? Didn't some men try to get in that were not up to the standard weight?"

"Yes," the portly officer replied, "but it was no use. Applications had to be presented in person at the club building, fifth floor. There was no elevator. The applicant climbed the five flights of stairs."

"At the top he met a man, who asked, 'Were you looking for the Fat Man's club?'"

"Yes."

"The main office is on the first floor," the man said. "Your application is rejected. We receive no man who can climb five flights of stairs."

Alum an Unseen Danger in Food

Noted food scientists have decided that alum is an unseen danger in food, and as a result of their investigations, rigorous laws have been enacted and are now being rigorously enforced in England, France and Germany, prohibiting the use of alum in foods. Until suitable laws are passed in Canada prohibiting the use of alum baking-powders, every housewife should be careful to buy only a baking-powder that has the ingredients printed plainly on the label.

Electric Controlled Boat

Within the last three or four years a number of striking explanations have been made in controlling from a distance the motions of small vessels, torpedoes and balloons, but the most elaborate apparatus of the kind seems to have been worked out by Christopher Worth of Nuremberg, and several backers. In the tests in Germany during the last few months, two unmanned motor boats—33 and 50 feet long—were manipulated in every way by electric waves sent from shore without wires.

The boat equipment included an antenna, a receiver, a tuning device, a distributor, electric steering apparatus, signal guns, lights and fire works, and the Ruhmoff coil on shore not only started and stopped the motors, which gave a speed of eight or ten miles an hour, but steered perfectly, fired the guns, hung the bells and discharged the fireworks. This was all controlled by a single train of waves broken into Morse signals by a key. A prolonged pressure on the transmitting key changed the tuning of the receiver, and by frequent changes and the use of many useless signals it was made impossible for an enemy to transmit waves of the right pitch to interfere. Firing mines, sending lifeboats to wrecks, and controlling self-propelled torpedoes are among the uses suggested.

S L Taube of the Taube Optical Co Calgary will be at the Bowden Drug store on Tuesday Dec 19th. If your eyes trouble you in any way be sure to see him.

On Tuesday night last the Local Camp of Modern Woodmen held a social evening in honor of Mr C Johnson and Lee Leslie, who are leaving Bowden in the near future. Refreshments were served by the lady friends of the order and a very pleasant evening was spent at cards and games. After twelve o'clock dancing was indulged in by those who enjoyed that amusement.

Are your Glasses giving you satisfaction? If not call and talk it over with S L Taube of the Taube Optical Co, Calgary. He will be at the Bowden Drug Store on Tuesday December 19th.

We wish to apologize to our Olds correspondent for having to omit an interesting budget of news from the southern town this week
